How Can You Best Prepare for Harvard?

We hope you will read our thoughts about choosing high school courses that will provide a strong base for a liberal arts education. But in summary, we recommend:

- The study of English for four years: close and extensive reading of the classics of the world's literature
 - Four years of a single foreign language
- The study of history for at least two, and preferably three years: American history, European history, and one additional advanced history course
- The study of mathematics for four years, including the particular topics described
 - The study of science for four years: physics, chemistry, and biology, and preferably one of these at an advanced level
 - Frequent practice in the writing of expository prose

Various important secondary school subjects, such as art and music, are not specifically mentioned in our recommendations. The omission

Donald Trump has said he does believe the climate is changing

US President Donald Trump has accused climate change scientists of having a "political agenda" as he cast doubt on whether humans were responsible for the earth's rising temperatures.

But Mr Trump also said he no longer believed climate change was a hoax.

The comments, made during an interview with CBS's 60 Minutes, come less than a week after climate scientists issued a final call to halt rising temperatures.
